RANGERS AND POLICE IN A NEAR BATTLE

Mistaken Identity Nearly Causes a Tragedy on Sunset Heights.

Police and rangers came near having a rifle duel in Sunset Heights Wednesday night as the result of a case of mistaken identity.

A shipment of 16,000 rounds of rifle ammunition had been cached in the canyon northeast of the waterworks reservoir on Sunset Heights, Mexican secret service men, working under Abram Molina, discovered the ammunition cache and reported it to Molina. In an effort to capture the smugglers when they came to the canyon for In an effort to capture the smugglers when they came to the canyon for the ammunition, state rangers, accompanied by Molina, went to the place and, while they were waiting for the men to come someone, said to be an employe of the Mexican consul, notified the police that there were armed men hiding in the hills of Sunset Heights. A hurry up run was made and the officers, with their guns drawn, approached the place where the armed men were reported to be. Seeing the police approaching and thinking they were the smugglers, thinking they were the smugglers, the rangers were ready to cover them. The identification of the police by one of the rangers prevented what might have been a fatal mistake.

El Pasoans Entertain and Clean, Capable—Never Held Good Crop Reports Have a Favorable Influence; Bonds Steady.

New York, N. Y., July 25.—Stocks today continued their erratic movements of the early weeks. Leaders displayed further hesitancy, while the specialities recorded gains and losses. The recent rise in General Electric, which gained three additional points in today's early dealings, was explained by advices from Boston announcing a large stock dividend. The stock immediately sold under yesterday's close on publication of the news, but soon ralited.

Westinghouse, another electrical security with extra dividend prospects, pursued a similar course. National Biscuit and International Paper, common and preferred, were heavy.

ACTS PROMPTLY Reports of Renewed Gambling and Other Law

Violations Received. Reports of numerous violations of the gambling laws in pool rooms and other places have come to the Citizens' League within the last 48 hours. Previously there had been a number of reports of violations by saloons, keeping open Sundays or after midnight. Immediately the executive board of the League was called together, and today at the meeting nearly all memthe League was called together, and today at the meeting, nearly all members of the board being present, plans were made to gather the necessary evidence and proceed vigorously against the places suspected of violating the laws to enforce which the League was formed, to wit, the laws against gambling and the laws for the protection of minors.

of minors.

It is said that some of the places formerly placed under injunction of the district court have been guilty of violating the injunction as well as the violating the injunction as well as the laws of the state.

For some months the city was almost entirely free from gambling, owing to the drastic operations of the League resulting in a number of convictions, license forfeitures, and injunctions. Of late there seems to have been a revival of the law breaking, and it is the intention of the Clitzens' League to put a stop to it before the evil grows to the proportions of last winter's debauch.

per and lower valley folks. The crest of this flood had passed San Marcial Wednesday night and is expected here Friday or Saturday. While much of the water will be lost by seepage along the course of the river and by irrigation above El Paso, this will mean a good irrigation for the lower valley farmers when it arrives. The past week, Juarez from the Casas Grandes section.
